Montreal, Tuesday, July 18, 2023 – Film Noir au Canal is pleased to announce the second screening of the season: Port of Shadows (Le Quai des brumes), a 1938 classic of French cinema directed by Marcel Carné, where we find Jean Gabin's mythical line to Michèle Morgan: "You have beautiful eyes, you know." Presented in collaboration with Cinemia, the film will be screened for free under the stars this Sunday, July 23 at Square Saint-Patrick, in the original French version with English subtitles.

For the occasion, the festival has the honour of welcoming actress, director, screenwriter, producer and grande dame of Quebec cinema Micheline Lanctôt, who will present this classic film by Marcel Carné, a filmmaker she particularly likes. Cinephiles are invited to arrive at the banks of the Lachine Canal at 7:30 p.m. as the event will begin with a musical performance by trumpeter Marsö (Bertrand Margelidon).

At 9 p.m., the public will discover Port of Shadows, which stars Jean Gabin as Jean, a deserter from the colonial army who tries to leave France. In the port city of Le Havre, he meets Nelly (Michèle Morgan), a mysterious young woman being mistreated by her guardian Zabel (Michel Simon). Jean, who is in love with Nelly, tries to defend her and thus puts himself in a dangerous situation.
